Tornadic Winds Kill 3, Injure 20

Storms Buffet 2 States

Baby Dies In Mother's Arms

YAZOO CITY, Miss.—(INS)—Three persons were reported dead and at least 20 others injured today in the wake of tornadic winds which swept through central Louisiana and Mississippi.

Ten-months-old William Boyd was killed as his mother held him in her arms when their farm house collapsed in Humphrey county, Mississippi, near Yazoo City. Three other children in the same family were injured.

Mrs. Helen Acton, 36, of Chatham, La., was drowned when a car driven by her husband plunged from a bridge during the storm. The husband, Charles, suffered minor injuries.

Widespread damage was reported in Humphrey, Madison and Hinds counties in Mississippi.

At the James Love plantation near Silver City, Miss., an unidentified man was killed when his wooden dwelling caved in.

At Tchula, Miss., a parked car with its three occupants was picked up by the winds, carried a quarter of a mile and dumped safely on its wheels. The occupants were only slightly scratched.

The windstorm first struck at Rapides Parish, near Alexandria, La., then skipped over into West Mississippi.

WAVES LASH COAST

At Mobile, Ala., wind-lashed waves cascaded eight inches over the caseway which is a main link on the highway between New Orleans and points east of Mobile. Traffic was snarled when police ordered the causeway closed.

Nine children were injured at Yazoo City when winds tore through an abandoned church used as a school. Their teacher also was injured.

Telephone, telegraph and power lines were reported down in sections throughout the wind-battered area.

Trees, uprooted by the gusts, fell across Illinois Central railroad tracks near Clinton, Miss., delaying traffic for hours. Highways and roads in the area were also blocked because of debris.

In Raymond, the dome of the historic court house, more than 100 years old, was blown from the structure.

Ohio Honors War Heroes

CHILLICOTHE — (AP) — Chillicothe buried the three Dennewitz brothers yesterday.

Past hushed crowds, the bodies of the young war heroes were carried three miles to flag-draped graves in Woodlawn cemetery. Their deaths were the greatest single loss suffered by an Ohio family during the war.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Adj. Gen. Leo Kreber were among the hundreds who joined the youths' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dennewitz, at the two graves.

The two unmarried brothers, John, 24, and William, 18, were buried in one grave. The other grave was for James, 23.

James, an army corporal was killed in Germany April 15, 1945. William, a fireman second class on a navy minesweeper, died in the south Pacific a day later. John, a private first class in the army, was killed in France on July 26, 1944.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The Senate Armed Services committee today unanimously approved President Truman's appointment of Louis Johnson as secretary of defense.

Diagonal Parking Ruled Out

Diagonal parking around Central park will be eliminated in about a week, Traffic Commissioner Frend Boals said today.

City street department workers today began raising the flagstone curb around Central park to seven inches in height and while this work is being done they will re-set the parking meters to handle parking parallel to the curb.

The project will be completed in about a week if the weather is good, Street Superintendent E. W. Davis said.

When the parking meters are re-located for parallel parking, about 20 per cent fewer cars can be parked in the area, Boals stated.

Merchants in the area will not lose any metered space because the extra meters will be moved to the area in front of the courthouse, which at this time is an un-metered two-hour parking zone, Boals added.

The change at the park will end diagonal parking in Mansfield since it already had been eliminated on other streets.

SEES ACCIDENT CURB

The traffic commissioner said he believes the change in parking will reduce the number of accidents around the park which in past years has been the scene of more accidents than any other one spot in the city. Boals estimated 100 traffic accidents occurred there in 1948.

"Motorists will be able to move in and out of parking spaces without disrupting the three lanes of traffic," he said.

"The appearance of the public square will be greatly improved," he said.

The present flagstone curb, which is from street level to four inches high, will be raised and slag dust packed under it to bring the curb to a seven-inch level.

This project will prevent automobiles from driving over the curbing and onto the sidewalks. It will also protect the parking meters from motor traffic, the commissioner said.

Finds Costly Way to Open Doors to Jail

CINCINNATI —(AP)— When a policeman told room-hunting Joe Goldberg how to spend the night at Central Police station he forgot to mention the price—$10 in costs.

That was the fine the 31-year-old Philadelphian received in Municipal court for telling the desk sergeant at police headquarters: "Come on, you ——, lock me up."

Goldberg explained he was a stranger in town, had lost his money and was looking for a place to spend the night. A friendly officer, he said, told him that speech would unlock city jail for him—and it did.

Shelby Market Loses License

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The State Liquor Control board announced today the revocation of one liquor permit and the suspensions of several others.

Revoked were the C-1 and C-2 permits of MacKeller's Marketeria of Shelby, on charges of exhibiting gambling devices.

The D-4 club permit of the American Legion O'Brien Post No. 326 at Shelby, was suspended for 30 days, from March 22 to April 20, on gambling device charges.

The case against the Eagle lodge at Shelby was continued with no date set for further hearing or decision.

Drive On Gambling Underway In Lorain

LORAIN — (AP) — A $5 annual license fee for juke boxes was provided in an ordinance adopted last night by city council.

It also prohibited all schemes of chance and made the possession of numbers slips unlawful.

Board OK's 373 Seniors

Class to Be Graduated At June 9 Ceremonies

The names of 373 Senior High pupils were approved for June 9 graduation last night by the board of education.

The class has only 11 fewer members than last year's record graduating class.

Dr. Roy L. Smith, Chicago, editor of the Christian Advocate, will address the graduates at ceremonies in the stadium behind the school building.

Baccalaureate services will be in the First Lutheran church June 5.

In Supt. W. L. Miller's report of the candidates for graduation, the names of 178 girls and 195 boys were listed.

The superintendent reserves the right to withhold the diploma of any senior who does not meet the requirements set up for seniors between the board's approval date and the time of graduation.

Take Funds From Church

An undetermined amount of cash was stolen when thieves ransacked the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church on Park Avenue east, Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor, reported to police yesterday.

The pastor said he found the money gone and church property damaged when he went to the church Monday. The burglary apparently took place Sunday night or early Monday, the pastor indicated.

The money was taken from collection envelopes and three cash-offering boxes which were attached to the walls. The boxes were smashed.

A black leather billfold, containing $2 and kept in the pastor's study also was missing.

Police said they found no evidence of forcible entry from the outside but a small brace and bit and a jimmy bar, taken from the custodian's room, had been used to force the pastor's study door.

Files and drawers in the study were ransacked.

2,000 MORE LAID OFF

LOUISVILLE, KY., — (UP) — The Louisville and Nashville railroad has furloughed 2,000 more men in the Louisville shops.

IT'S SPRING—There are no better signs of spring than marbles, kites and roller skates. Mansfield youngsters swarmed outside yesterday in the warm weather to take up where their outdoor games were interrupted last fall. Above left, three boys are engrossed in a game of marbles. Left to right, they are Michael McClure, 598 South Diamond street; Keith Mitchell, 586 South Diamond street, and Tommy Scott, 552 South Diamond street. The skaters, in the picture below, are Marilyn Yarman, 394 Lincoln avenue, left, and Sandra French, 577 South Diamond street.

Pastor Invited to 'Step In the Alley'

A church service is no place to remove your coat and "invite" the pastor to the alley.

And it's not nice to push him out of the pulpit and call him names.

That's the way David C. Mann, pastor of the Roseland church, feels about it. So does Leonard Binion, one of his congregation.

Today, both Mann and Binion appeared in municipal court protesting the Sunday morning actions of Rex Potter, 25, Lexington, R. D. 1, and Sylvan M. Donahue, 33, of 729 Geddes avenue.

Binion contended that Potter pushed Mann out of the pulpit during the Sunday morning worship service and took over. Mann charged that Donahue then removed his coat and "invited" him to the alley.

Donahue is charged with threatening in a menacing manner and Potter with a special statute charging that he wilfully interrupted and disturbed an assemblage of persons.

Potter and Donahue pleaded innocent to the charges today before Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler and asked for a continuance of the case to obtain legal representation. The case was continued to Friday morning court session and Potter and Donahue released on $200 bond each.

According to court officials,

Temperature Due to Skid

Bees Frisky As Mercury Hits 64

It was just a taste of spring. Things will be different tonight. The weatherman made himself unpopular today with a prediction of a return of freezing weather.

It was spring yesterday, anyway, the mercury climbing to a balmy 64. By noon today it was down to 51.

Yesterday was so warm that bees were busy in orchards and fields and the robins were caroling in their best form.

Mansfield's low of 48 yesterday was one of the coolest recorded in the state. Findlay also recorded that temperature. The highest yesterday occurred at Chesapeake where the temperature zoomed to 72 degrees.

Rainfall recorded here in the 24-hour period up to 7:30 a. m. was .21 of an inch. More rain was predicted for today.

The five-day forecast calls for generally fair and cool weather Wednesday, some rain Thursday night and Friday followed by generally fair and cool weather at the end of the week.

Temperatures will be slightly above normal for the period with a total precipitation of about one-half inch.

Extortion Trial Starts

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Actual court testimony was to begin today in the extortion trial of Elmer Steven Whiting, 42, of Canton.

The trial opened late yesterday as lawyers traced their cases in statements before a jury of six women and six men.

The prosecution charged that Whiting and another man kidnapped Joseph J. Cohen, wealthy west coast turf figure, in 1938 and forced him to turn over to them large sums of money, with the threat of death if he failed to do so.

William C. Graves, assistant United States District Attorney, also read a letter, allegedly sent from Canton to Cohen by Whiting in May, 1948, which stated: "I'll see you in 10 days, or never; it's entirely up to you."

Miners' Wage Loss Set At $35 Million

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—John L. Lewis' vacationing miners were reported today to have lost an estimated 35 million dollars in wages thus far in their two-week memorial work stoppage.

Sinatra Tale; From Singing To Swinging

PALM SPRINGS, Calif.—(AP) —That slugging featherweight, Frank "The Punch" Sinatra, 130, has done it again.

Police Chief A. G. Kettman says the bobby sox idol argued with a guest at a party over the mixing of a drink.

Result: The guest, Jack Wintermeyer, was treated at a hospital for a gash on the head.

Later, Wintermeyer and his lawyer visited the police station but no complaints were signed. Instead, Kettman got Sinatra and Wintermeyer together for a peace meeting where they shook hands.

Dems Rally To Support Rent Bill

Early Senate Approval Seen

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democratic senators put aside their sectional differences today to rally behind a measure extending federal rent controls.

Both the southerners who staged a long fight against an anti-filibuster rules change and the party who opposed them joined ranks to support a bill which would continue controls 12 to 15 months.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking committee told a reporter he was confident the Senate would pass the measure by tomorrow afternoon "at the latest."

Even after Senate passage, rent control differences will have to be worked out with the House.

The Senate yesterday showed strong Republican support for two features of the House bill which the Senate committee eliminated.

One would permit towns, cities, counties and states to take over rent controls or to drop them. The Senate measure reserves that power for states alone. The other would allow landlords 'a reasonable return on a reasonable value' of their property.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said he was "intrigued" by the House's home-rule provision.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chief of the GOP Senate Policy committee, urged that landlords be assured in the law of a reasonable return on their property.

But Maybank said he expects no substantial changes in the bill as reported by his committee.

On the rent issue, he noted, the Democrats have buried the differences that wracked them in the two-week filibuster fight.

The bill falls short of what President Truman asked. It extends controls less than the two years he wants, and permits some rent increases of up to 10 per cent.

String Proves Too Expensive

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Mrs. Doris Acosta today stepped out of the kite flying picture and relinquished her claim to the title of world champion housewife kite flyer to a Columbus mother of three.

Mrs. Acosta, 20, said her kite apparently was beaten to the ground during the night by a spring rain after being afloat 35½ hours.

"I'm giving up—the cost of string is too high," she said. Since starting on her record attempts last week, Mrs. Acosta has spent $15 on string.

4 New Probes To Start Soon

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Commerce committee will start four sweeping investigations just as soon as the Senate gives the "go ahead."

That word came today from committee chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo).

The investigations will cover (1) inland water and rail transportation; (2) commercial airline operation, (3) the maritime industry, and (4) radio, telegraph and telephone communications.

The Rules committee yesterday authorized an expenditure of $165,000 to cover the inquiries.

Murderers Arrested

SEOUL — (AP) — Police Chief Kim Tai Sun announced today the slayers of Mrs. H. H. Underwood, an American, had been arrested and linked with the communist South Korea Labor party.

Violence Rages On In Italy

Seven Wounded In Demonstration

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The North Atlantic powers are said to have decided today to maintain the headquarters for their combined defense staff in Paris.

This group, which may be headed by General Dwight D. Eisenhower, will control day-to-day planning for the defense of western Europe in case Russia or any of her satellites were to move.

Paris has been chosen, it was said, because it is strategically located and is most readily accessible to the heads of the defense forces of the European democracies.

Headquarters for the supply of war materials to the European powers will be in Washington. From here the decisions will be made on the flow of war materials to the European powers.

In Italy, one person was in serious condition and six others nursed minor gunshot wounds in Lavello today as the result of a clash between left-wingers, demonstrating against the Atlantic pact, and police.

SITUATION TENSE

The police opened fire when several hundred communists and communist sympathizers in the southern Italian town demonstrated against Italy's entrance into the alliance.

Police reinforcements were rushed from nearby Potenza and local sources described the situation as tense.

Meanwhile, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky has reportedly told western diplomats in Moscow that he will follow his chief deputy Andrei Gromyko to the United States.

Gromyko will head the Russian delegation to the April session of the U.N. general assembly. Vishinsky, who succeeded Viacheslav Molotov when the latter was "released" for as yet undisclosed purposes, indicated he intends to attend the fourth regular session of the assembly next September.

At Lake Success, this indication of Vishinsky's intentions carried tremendous significance.

It was taken to mean that Russia does not plan to withdraw from the United Nations in protest against the Atlantic pact—at least not immediately.

Further, it was seen to foreshadow a Soviet running "war of nerves" of progressive intensity at U.N. through the spring and summer.

Red Cross Fund Upped

Red Cross campaign funds were increased by more than $1,000 today as the total reached $33,484.79. Shelby's figure still stood at $3,643 with no new returns reported.

Four more precincts exceeded their quotas in the drive to raise $48,835 in Mansfield and Richland county this month.

Precinct E of the Second ward, with Mrs. A. W. Fitzsimmons as chairman, reported $260.50 with a quota of $260.

Mrs. James Eberly, chairman of Precinct A of the Sixth ward, exceeded her quota of $500 with $520 reported.

Precinct E of the Sixth ward, Mrs. Harry Thierlein, chairman, raised $27 with a quota of $25.

Mrs. Fred Wagner, chairman of the greater Mansfield district which includes North Main street and Bowman road, reported $77 with a quota of $40.

Jury Indicts 7 Slot Owners

IRONTON — (INS) — Seven indictments were returned today by a special Lawrence county grand jury investigating gambling at Ironton.

After examining more than 100 witnesses in four days, the jury charged seven alleged slot machince operators.

Governor Lausche recently branded Lawrence county as one where open, commercialized gambling flourished.

Aftermath of Poker Game

Gambling Leaves Mark On Boys' Good Records

Eight of nine juveniles arrested in a north side pool hall Friday night now have juvenile court records—something they did not have before—a check of jevenile court records today disclosed.

Only one of them, a 16-year-old, had been in juvenile court before. In 1948 he was in for breaking and entering and last September he was placed on probation for truancy.

However, none of the other eight juveniles, ranging in age from 14 to 17 years had ever been in juvenile court. Neither had a tenth youth, an 18-year-old, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors in that he engaged in a game of chance with the minors and making wagers with minors in a game of stud poker. Police said he acted as the "houseman," taking a cut out of each game for the pool hall owner.

Police arrested the 10 and the owner of the North End Billiards at 219 Harker street, when they went there looking for a youth wanted on a felony charge. The youth was not there.

The juveniles were put on probation either for six months or a year on charges of loitering in a pool hall where gambling was permitted.

The owner, Paul Franklin Adams, 48, was fined $200 while the 18-year-old was given a suspended $100 fine in juvenile court Saturday. He had been operating his pool hall only about three weeks.

Police confiscated punch boards and other counter gambling devices in the raid. Generally, such devices are displayed throughout the city without police molestation.

Browns Nine Turns Trick By One Run

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal. (INS) — The Cleveland Indians, angered by two defeats in a row, hit the warpath today for San Bernardino, Cal., where they were to encounter the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Lou Boudreau, who collected two hits as he watched his mates drop a 4-3 decision to the St. Louis Browns yesterday at Burbank, has selected Mike Garcia and Sam Zoldak to hurl for the Tribe today.

A pinch double with the bases filled and one out in the last of the ninth was the blow that sunk the Tribesmen yesterday.

PINCH HITTER STARS

Whitey Platt, a pinch hitter for Pitcher Ned Garver, drove the winning tally across the plate with a two-bagger off lefty Frank Papish, the hurler obtained from Chicago during the off-season.

Papish blanked the Brownies without a hit in the seventh and eighth frames after relieving Steve Gromek, who kept the score intact for the first six cantos.

Gromek had allowed the St. Louis club one run in the second inning and another in the fourth on seven hits. Papish gave them the tying and winning runs on three hits and three walks.

Taking batting honors for the Tribe was Larry Doby, sophomore outfielder who collected three hits in five times at the plate. He connected for a double and two singles.

SECONDS WIN

Meanwhile the Redskins' "B" squad and Gene Bearden were winning their game over the University of Southern California by a score of 12-5. Bearden pitched the entire nine innings, and became the first major leaguer to go the route this spring.

Lefty Gene Bearden gave up eight hits in setting down the collegians. He walked three and struck out one. Johnny Berardino stole batting honors with a home run and a single, driving in three runs.

Robinson Makes Bigger Mess of Pro Boxing Mess

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

CHICAGO—(INS)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight champion, danced a blithe buck and wing with three rival boxing syndicates today, and all was as clear as Aristotle on a dark night.

In the spring, a promoter's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of a June title fight. The only questions, in that connection, were whether Robinson would:

1. Fight a lightweight for the 20th Century Sporting club.
2. Fight a welterweight for the International Boxing club.
3. Fight a middleweight for the Tournament of Champions.

You pays and you takes. Reportedly, Robinson is contracted to defend his welterweight title against the winner of the Kid Gavilan-Ike Williams lightweight match, under 20th Century auspices.

But he is understood to be under agreement to the Tournament of Champions to meet Marcel Cerdan for the latter's middleweight crown.

And yesterday, in Chicago where he will meet Bobby Lee in a non-title ten-rounder Friday night, Robinson considered with much pleasure an offer, backed by a $100,000 guarantee, to fight welterweight Vince Foster for the 147-pound championship in Chicago.

That offer was made by Chicago Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun, who are popularly supposed to be fronting for the newly-formed International Boxing club that has Arthur Wirtz, James Norris and the retired heavyweight titlist, Joe Louis, as co-partners.

MORE TOMORROW

There may be more of this tomorrow, when Wirtz, Norris and Louis get together at their Chicago stadium headquarters and announce plans for the future. These plans are suspected to include a card at Chicago stadium the week of April 17 and at the Detroit Olympia the week of April 24.

Also, the I. B. C. is expected to announce date and site for the Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott heavyweight fight, which the Louis-Wirtz-Norris faction says has received title sanction from the National Boxing association.

Athletic Body Organization Set Tonight

A meeting to organize a body to control all recreation department athletics in the city has been called for tonight by City Recreation Director Stanley W. Kamen. The confab is set for 7:30 p. m. in the new municipal courtroom, city hall.

The body will be tentatively known as the Mansfield Athletic commission and will replace the softball and basketball commissions.

Kamen reported that the formation of the new group is the outgrowth of a questionnaire he sent some 40 prominent sports enthusiasts in the city last fall.

CHARTER MEMBERS

The 22 men who responded to the queries will become charter members of the body and will recommend other members.

The commission will not be under Recreation department control and will have full authority to act on its own concerning the spending of any monies connected with the sports it governs.

One of the proposed things the commission may boost is an annual all-sports banquet at which champions of all the city's amateur sports would be honored.

Pirates, A's Tie for Top On Circuit

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Athletics sport the best records in the National and American leagues respectively in "grape fruit" league play.

Manager Billy Meyer's Pirates have won nine games and lost three for a .750 rating while the Athletics have won six and lost two for a .750 mark.

However, five Pittsburgh victories have been against minor league opposition and two of Philadelphia's have been over minor league teams.

The St. Louis Cardinals, winners of their last six starts, and the Cincinnati Reds are tied for second place in the National with a 6-3 .667 record. The Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians are deadlocked for second in the American with 6-4 .600 slates.

Billy Southworth's defending champion Braves have the poorest record in the National. The Braves have won only two games and lost eight for a .200 card. The Boston Red Sox are the worst in the American with a 3-5 .375 record.

Redlegs Fall, 2-1 . . .

TAMPA, FLA. — (AP) — The Red Hot Reds of Cincinnati called off yesterday and slipped back into an old bad habit—failing to hit in the pinch.

The Reds dropped a 2 to 1 decision to the equally sizzling St. Louis Cards yesterday after winning their last four spring training exhibition games in a row.

But today was another day—and another game with the cards. Yesterday St. Louis was the "home" team at St. Petersburg and today the Reds were hosts here and Manager Bucky Walters planned to use Frank Fanovich, the rookie southpaw and reliefer Harry Gumbert on the mound.

Brightest spot in the losing cause against St. Louis was the pitching performance of Harry Perkowski. Perkowski, who won 22 and lost 10 with Tulsa last year, allowed only three hits and walked but two in the four scoreless innings he pitched.

Whitey to Be Back . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. — (AP) — Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals said third baseman Whitey Kurowski would be back in the lineup Thursday.

Kurowski has been complaining of shoulder pains. He underwent a bone operation in his right arm last winter. Cardinal pennant chances require a sound Kurowski, Dyer has said.

Go After Indians

(By International News Service)

The Cleveland Barons, who barely made the playoffs in the final game of the season, meet the Springfield Indians in the first round of the battle for the coveted Calder cup tonight in Springfield.

Golfer Pete Hits Top Bowling Pace

The Club bowling league was back on the beam last night as three honor roll scores were turned in.

Pete Linster, better known as a golfer, evidently took on extra strength from the spring weather as he set the pace with a 205-234-210—649 for the American Legion team.

Fritz Schnittke, leadoff man for Globe Steel, was not far behind with a 643 on games of 215, 244, and 184. Myron Cairns, of the Lions club got the other 600 in the league, a 607 on games of 201, 198 and 208.

STARTS EVENING

Bob Hilborn, who beat 600 in the Commercial B league later in the night, began his evening's activities with a 589 score for the American Legion quintet. Glen Lanning had 583 and Dean Rex 563. Colony Manager Art Hilborn slipped all the way to 546.

Sweeps in the league went to the Lions Club over Baku Grotto and American Legion over the Schoolmasters. Top team scores were the Legion's 2721 total and Globe Steel's 937 single game.

Bob Hilborn was only five pins off the top-rung for the night with a 221-207-216—644 effort for Tinkey Lumber in the Commercial C league. Charles Bauer missed the honor roll with a 593 for Mansfield Tire and Emmett McIntire was a little farther behind with 575 for Urschel Insurance.

R. Faulk, Orphans, counted 564 and J. Takos wrote down 560 for Local 17.

Sweeps in this loop went to Tinkey Lumber over Barnes Meat Market and Mansfield Tire over Long Bar.

★

Bob Gresmer led Richland A leaguers with a 594 series on games of 176, 204, and 214 for Richland Recreation. Win Cleckner, Miller's Hi-Life and Alex Keefer, Oak Park Tavern, tied for runner-up spot with 574. Beam of Ideal Tavern posted 562, B. Hamilton, 548 and John Heckert, McCarrick's, 547.

Mansfield Sanitary Pottery swept three from Bellville Foundry, Oak Park Tavern took three from Wonder Bread and Miller's Hi Life won three from Morgan's Cleaners.

★

Gene Rudolph of Charm Fashion took both single game and series honors in the Richland C Handicap league with 188-210-151—549. His teammate, K. Beam fired 522 and John Rhoads 518. B. Forsythe, Schenk's, tossed 515 and John Wolf Veterans Cab, 472.

Charm Fashion swept three games Watson's Jewelry.

★

A quintet of 500 scores sparked play in the Women's Variety league at the Colony alleys. Wilma Horvath, Mitsch's Corner Store, was tops with 171-204-163—538 while Dot McDevitt, Farmer's Market, had 150-173-208—531.

Others: Donna Schuster, Farmer's, 524; Arlene Paters, Wilson Auto Sales, 523 and Millie Hough, Penn Auto - Sporting Goods, 507. Wanda Conrad had 492 for Stone's Grill.

Mitsch's increased its league lead by taking three from Stone's. Mitch's had 2418.

★

Ron Bachman came through with 164-190—354 in the John Simpson league. Jim Bachman had 296, Warren Worthley, 250 and Frank Schutz, 249.

★

Christine Au was hot in the Mansfield Tire Women's league with 135-191-216—542. Other scores were down the line, namely Elaine Miller, 451; Virginal Bay, 421; Betty Pearl, 411 and Maryalice Danals, 411.

★

Lead in the Gorman - Rupp league went to Dean Hahn with 155-155-194—504. Others: D. Backman, 481; Alex Horvath, 475; Cliff Penrose, 480 and A. Leitenberger, 468.

Flying Boots Notches First

BUCYRUS — Annual spring coon dog tests, sponsored by the Crawford County Coon Hunters' Association of the Crawford county fairgrounds, drew an entry list of 125 dogs.

Missouri King, owned by William Sousley of Pemberville, O., won first and second places in the finals of the tree dog trials. Flying Boots, owned by Clyde Moore of Mansfield, took first place in the line competition. Second place went to Ohio Boss, owned by Paul Chandler of Ashland.

Proceeds from the event will be used for restocking and feeding wild game in Crawford county.

Illini Stand In Kentucky Court Path

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK — (INS) — A game and rugged University of Illinois basketball team stood today in the way of Kentucky's efforts to salvage two-thirds of its "grand slam" tournament championship program.

The Illini, blowing hot and cold, but plenty fierce, came from five points behind in the last two and a half minutes last night to nip Yale, 71 to 67, in the NCAA eastern regional first round of play.

Kentucky won more or less as it pleased from outclassed Villanova, 85 to 72.

BATTLE FOR TITLE

The Big Nine title-holding Illini and the Southeastern conference top-dog Wildcats meet tonight for the eastern crown.

The winner of that one plays Oklahoma A. & M., the western regional champion, at Seattle, Wash., Saturday night.

The Wildcats, whose dreams of sweeping the boards of major crowns went sour in last week's national invitation tournament, were a vastly different ball club last night.

They seemed bent on wiping out memories of their surprise upset by Loyola. In the first half at least, they fully convinced 18,051 spectators they were slick articles.

Kentucky led 48 to 37 at halftime, but slowed down in the second half with three starters riding the bench much of the way. Nevertheless, the Wildcats shattered the NCAA scoring record with their 85 points.

Alex Groza, the big All-American center, whipped in 30 counters.

GET LOTS OF POINTS

However, a couple of individuals who played for losing causes clamored for their share of plaudits. Villanova's splintery Paul Arizin also had 30 points, and Lavelli had 27 for Yale's beaten Elis.

Illinois, a better balanced team than the Bulldogs, was horribly cold on its shots most of the way.

Snyder Remains As President of Fox Association

Harold Snyder was re-elected president of the Richland County Fox Hunters association at its regular meeting last night in the court house.

The hunters made plans to continue their organization through the summer months and elected Emmery Smith vice-president. Walter Windland secretary, and O. M. Beveridge treasurer.

Several crow hunts, a summer picnic and a corn roast were put on the agenda as well as a meeting the second Monday of each month. The hunters have purchased 14 pens of pheasants to be released in areas where the fox have been thinned out at a time when there is good cover and water Each pen cantains six hens and one cock bird according to the pheasants committee composed of Paul and Raymond Schmunk and Carl Maul.

Thumbnail Data On Class B Tourney Teams

By JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Thumbnail sketches of class B state tournament teams:

DELPHOS ST JOHN'S — Coach Dick Bechtel is a graduate of Brooklyn St. Johns of New York Metropolitan basketball fame. He also brought Lima St. John's to the class B state tourney in 1944 so he likes the St. John's name. Capward, is the high scorer of the outfit with 510 points. Schmelzer wears glasses off the floor but not on it, and his mates say he can't see ten feet without them. Other tall boys are Dick Honingford, 6-7, at center and Tom Brennan, 6-3, at forward. Bechtel favors speed above all else and likes the zone defense. Delphos beat Toledo Central Catholic, class A tourney contender, by 14 points in a benefit game at Toledo. Delphos lost three games this season.

★

NEW LEXINGTON — Coach Lin Lewis is a graduate of Capital University at Columbus New Lex won the Muskingum Valley league championship and figured once it had beaten Junction City, Perry county champs, it couldn't help but go to Columbus. Star of the club is Bill Wollenberg, 6-1, 185 pound center, who scored almost 500 points for the season. Bob Penrod, at 5-8 was chosen all league forward. The only other 6-foot regular besides Wollenberg is Bull Dusenberry, a fine floor-man at guard. Lewis likes the deliberate attack but says his team can also move when it has to. Uses both zone and pressure-type defense featuring man-to-man. One loss Mars new Lex's record.

★

NORTH CANTON — Coach Clyde Vanaman, graduate of Mt. Union, is in his third year at North Canton During that time he has won 62 while losing 17. The stark countians won the class B championship in 1939 and are the only team back from last year's championship field. George Hamilton, the number one substitute on the 1948 team, is the key man this year. He scored 117 points in seven tourney games this time out. He's 6-1. The other tall boy on the club is center Dave Mathie, 6-3 The Cantonians lost six games this season while winning 22.

★

LOCKLAND WAYNE — Coached by Joe Martin, graduate of the University of Cincinnati. He's the only coach Lockland, an all-negro school has ever had. Lockland lost to Hamilton, class A contender, by a score of 39 to 36, and Hamilton coach Warren Scholler admits Lockland is the toughest his club has faced all year. It was Lockland's only loss, and many experts claim the Cincinnatians are a near-cinch to take the class B title. Martin says his team has no such thing as a key man and no one is over six feet. Center Lee Bennett is just that. The outfit features passing and coolness, and doesn't run too fast, according to Martin Lockland has the best offensive record, 66 point average, and best defensive record, 31 point average, of any tournament team.

Mock Business Meeting Held

Beta Kappa Tau sorority entertained its pledges with a mock business meeting in the clubrooms at the YMCA recently. The president, Mrs. Harold Schnittke, called the meeting to order and explained the sorority to the pledges.

Mrs. Harold Heston and Mrs. Carol Kelly were appointed co-chairman of a rummage sale to be held March 26 at 272½ North Mulberry street. It was also voted to contract for a year's supply of film for the Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

After the meeting, lunch was served from tables very attractively decorated in the St. Patrick's day theme with large shamrocks serving as centerpieces and miniature shamrocks as favors.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing progessive rum with prizes going to Miss Patsy Heath, Mrs. Jack Fry and Mrs. Henry Hiles. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Don Rose, chairman, Mrs. Albert Bechtel and Mrs. Frank Remlong.

The next session, which will be a social at the YMCA, will be devoted to sewing for the Children's Fair. This meeting will be March 24.

2 Bulls of Service Age

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

MARCH 30th

1:00 P.M.—Lunch Served

At my farm on U. S. 42, between Plain City and Delaware, Ohio.

REGISTERED and GRADE

FRESH and CLOSE-UP

These cows and heifers in this offering are imported from Canada and are in good condition, show quality in breeding and production. Many have Records of Production and others are producing in a manner that would establish a high record. The high selectivity of Sires practiced by the Canadian breeders is rewarding them by their increased high quality offspring.

All this offering are either fresh or closeup, and half of them are at least 1st or 2nd calf heifers.

The bulls are young, of service age and in good condition. One is a son of Montvic Rag Apple Sovereign out of a high record dam.

The grades are excellent individuals and high producers. Many are calfhood vaccinated.

Calves sold separately and guaranteed to live one week.

Four generation pedigrees and registration certificates furnished. State Laboratory tested and a guaranteed negative retest within 10 days.

14 Women Named 49's Best Dressed

Bacall Takes Screen Honors

NEW YORK — (INS) — New York's Fashion academy decorated the chic lapels of 14 American women with gold medals today—labeling them the "best dressed women of 1949."

The academy honored one woman from each field of "feminine endeavor," listing Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller "Cinderella" of the social set, at the top as the best-groomed society representative.

Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas won in the public life class, Lauren Bacall took screen honors, and Perle Mesta of Washington, D. C., was best-dressed hostess.

Other award winners were Mrs. Jerome K. Ohrbach, business; mona Paulee, Opera; Jane Pickens radio; Wendy Burden debutante; Patricia Morison, stage; Elizabeth Taylor, all American; Mrs. Leon Mandel, international set; Maggi McNellis, commentator; Dorothy Kilgallen, columnist, and Julie Wilson, supper clubs.

The Fashion academy, in its 20th annual awards, named women who selected the best costumes "in keeping with their own requirements."

Mrs. Rockefeller, they said, won because "since leaving the front pages, she has dressed with taste for charity and social activities."

Miss Morison won for her "simplicity;" Miss Bacall, for "knowing the importance of smart apparel both on and off the screen;" and Miss Paulee, because she "edits her own wardrobe for opera roles."

All winners are dressed primarily, by American fashion designers.

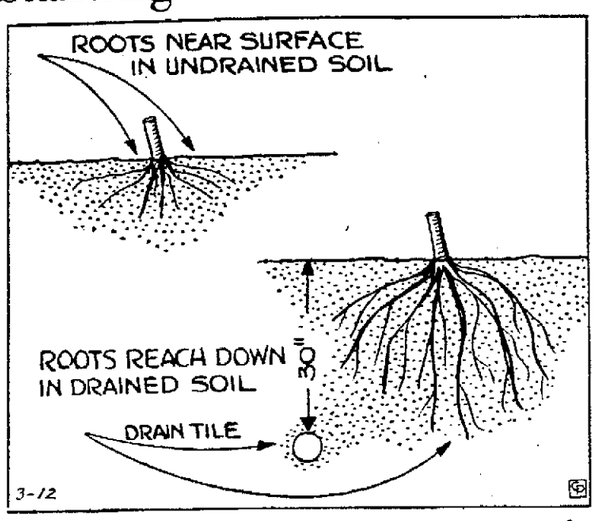
Today's Garden Graph

Standing Water 'Sours' Soil



By DEAN HALLIDAY
(By Central Press)

A wet garden will not grow good crops. When water stands anywhere in the top two feet, the soil becomes cold, sodden and poorly aerated, so that beneficial bacterial activity ceases and plants are retarded or rot and die.

Check your garden plot this spring. If water stands on the surface soil for more than two hours after a heavy rain, drainage is needed.

In undrained soil the poorly developed roots of the struggling plants will be found near the surface, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. When the soil is properly tiled, as illustrated, the roots will be found reaching well down and the plants more vigorous.

If the wet area in your garden is small usually one single line of tile drains will be ample. The drains should be placed from 24 to 30 inches deep. The drains must have some sort of outlet and should fall six inches to every 100 feet. Cover the joints with tar paper, cinders or gravel before replacing the soil.

Other methods of improving the soil by carrying away surface water are by digging a ditch or series of ditches deep enough to bring the water level down. These ditches can be filled with stones and covered with cinders or gravel.

If you are bothered by heavy clay soil in your garden and the end of winter has left an accumulation of coal ashes on hand, use the latter to break up the clay soil. It has been found that two or three inches of ashes can be dug into clay soil with safety. The ashes will help to lighten the soil and make it more porous and workable.

Probe Girl's Murder

MILWAUKEE —(UP)— Beautiful 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham, whose body was found weighted by a concrete building block in the Milwaukee river, apparently was killed by "someone her own age whom she knew very well," detectives said today.

Miss Birmingham's body was pulled out of the river yesterday by a fireboat crew searching for the body of another woman who had leaped from a bridge during the day.

The pretty, brown-haired high school student had been shot twice, apparently with a .22 caliber weapon, in the left ear and left cheek. Both bullets passed through her head.

Her body was clothed in the skirt, zipper jacket, bobby sox and saddle shoes she wore on Feb. 10, the day she disappeared. A preliminary medical examination indicated she had not been raped.

Charges Hurled Against Ohio 'Pen'; Warden Blasts Judges

Rebuilding Of Prison Suggested

Remarks Spark Running Feud

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A Columbus judge's statement that no one ever got any good out of the Ohio penitentiary brought a sharp denial from Warden Ralph W. Alvis.

"He hasn't seen all who go out of here," Alvis said. "A high percentage of the men who go out of here make good in public life."

Judge James C. Connell, speaking to the second anti-crime institute of the grand jury association, described the penitentiary as a "fortress prison." He added:

"Ninety percent of the inmates have tuberculosis — and you have to pay taxes to send them to institutions for care after their release from prison."

Alvis replied: "We have 27 active cases, all hospitalized, out of 4,200 prisoners. That's hardly 90 percent."

Another Cleveland judge, Charles J. McNamee, told the association:

"Get rid of it and replace it with one or even two modern buildings. Young and old, perverts and normal people are thrown together."

Perverts, Alvis countered, are segregated at the prison.

Judge Connell told the meeting, "I have never seen any one who has been in the Ohio pen who got any good from it. I've seen broken-spirited men come out of there but none reformed. Why? Because it's a fortress prison, where the inmate has one minute under a shower a week."

"I don't know Judge Connell," Alvis remarked, "and I am not aware that he has visited the penitentiary since I came here Feb. 23, 1948."

The penitentiary was built more than 100 years ago.

Bound Over In Theft

Columbus Man Held Under $3,000 Bond

Hugh Daughtery, 31, of Columbus, accused of stealing chickens from a Richland county farmer after his automobile was struck by a train and his companion fatally injured, was bound to the grand jury when he entered a plea of innocent today in municipal court. Bond was set at $3,000.

Daughtery is charged with burglary of an unoccupied building. The charge also carries a count of grand larceny in that the chickens were valued at $36, according to the affidavit.

Daughtery, when he appeared on the witness stand on his own behalf, said he didn't know how the crate containing 16 chickens got in the automobile in which he was a passenger.

The owner and driver of the automobile, James Richardson, 47, of Columbus, was fatally injured when the car was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train at a grade crossing near Tiro last Wednesday.

William Hursh, State Route 61, three miles north of Shelby, testified that the chickens found after the train rammed the car were the ones stolen from his farm a few hours earlier.

He said he had purchased the chickens a few days before. The birds had leg bands, but they had been removed.

Richland and Crawford county sheriff's deputies said Daughtery had sold chickens to two poultry houses in Columbus.

GM Layoffs Considered

DAYTON — (AP) — Frigidaire division of General Motors corporation is considering lay-off of an undisclosed number of workers because of "cautious buying."

General Manager Mason Roberts said last night he would send a form letter to Frigidaire's 20,000 employes explaining that:

"Because of cautious buying, there will be some possible reductions in our working force and in time schedules."

The reductions, Roberts said, would be "on a week to week basis until we see where sales level off."

Earlier, Robert Elsner, president of Local 801 of the CIO United Electrical workers, said Frigidaire officials had notified his union they intend to lay off 2,000 employes by April.

CHICAGO — (U.P.) — Officials of the International Harvester company announced Monday price reductions averaging 8.3 per cent on 1949 household electric refrigerators.

It Wasn't Censorship, After All—It Was Mrs. T's Modesty

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman says it is safer for him at home if he isn't photographed in bathing trunks. Mrs. Truman won't stand for it.

That, he says, is the real reason why White House aides insisted they must seize a batch of informal pictures made of the President and friends last week when he was vacationing at Key West, Fla.

Mr. Truman talked about it at a dinner given by the White House News Photographers' association. It was not "censorship," he said with a grin, but "a safety measure so I could come home."

The pictures—both news reels and stills—were taken from navy blimp. Photographers understood the project had been approved by proper authorities. They were astonished when Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, insisted on surrender of the photos.

At the time, White House aides called it a security measure. But they did not explain it was security against Mrs. Truman's wrath.

Mr. Truman said that was it. Before he went to Key West, he said "the boss" told him.:

"Whatever you do, don't have any pictures taken in your bathing suit."

He said a picture like that was taken in 1946 in Bermuda and Mrs. Truman has regarded it ever since as a "disgrace to the family."

The president's story of the incident was told "off-the-record," meaning not for publication. However, an account of his remarks was published by the New York Daily News which said the publication was due to an "honest" mistake by Jerry Greene of its Washington staff.

Today, Ross declined to lift the "off-the-record" label from the Saturday night speech but said further publication of the story was a matter of "individual discretion."

Sportsmen 'Invade' Capital

Members of the board of trustees of the League of Ohio Sportsmen made a mass "invasion" of Columbus today, fighting the conservation unification act, Senate Bill 13.

Dr. J. W. Ogden of Hayesville, president of the Ashland county Wild Life Protective league, and Louis Bromfield, chairman of the present "Conservation commission, went on record as opposing the measure.

Bromfield charged that the "only result for the people will be steadily increasing expense accompanied by steadily decreasing results."

The bill bears the endorsement of Governor Lausche and was endorsed in principle by former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

Bromfield criticized the fact that the director of the proposed new department will be appointed by the governor.

He said that an amendment to give the director a six-year term instead of having him serve at the pleasure of the governor was "an improvement," but the bill was "still dangerous in that it gives the Governor certain powers of removal on his own authority."

Actually the six-year term was not the result of amendment but was in the original draft of the bill.

The author—sportsman declared the bill as it stands would threaten to "throw the whole field of conservation directly into the field of politics."

"Under the proposed plan," Dr. Ogden declared, "the commissioner's job would be a political plum. I'd hate to sit on any board and have as little power as the Metzenbaum amendment provides for the commission.

"The Conservation commission would be a weak group, acting only as advisors to the commissioner."

Church Row Goes to Court

the fracas grew out of an argument over an accumulated collection for a church project.

Potter and Donahue, both memebrs of the congregation, allegedly resented the collection and demanded their individual donations be returned.

After some argument the donations were returned and the pair was asked to leave the church. At that time Potter allegedly pushed Mann from the pulpit and Donahue took off his coat.

Few Communist 'Activists' Enrolled

ACCORDING to the most authoritative information available, actual adherents of the Communist party in Soviet Russia total no more than six million, but this minority—by leadership and force—direct the destinies of 180 million people who slavishly follow the dictates of their communist overlords.

Similar minorities, almost negligible in numbers, have taken control in satellite countries, and the total of communist "activists" in the entire world is placed at no more than 18 million—which is less than one per cent of the estimated entire population of the world.

According to J. C. Oestreicher, International News Service foreign director, Ville Pessi, communist leader in Finland, has, by accident or otherwise, revealed the enlisted strength of what are called "active communists" in various countries, placing the world total at 18 million.

An earlier tabulation, made by the newspaper, El Mercurio, of Santiago, Chile, in connection with an investigation of communist "fifth column" activities throughout the world, had given a slightly smaller total, with 390,700 credited to North and South America, including 74,000 in the United States.

All of Europe disclosed only 14,741,800 outright communists; Asia, 2,150,700; Australia, 27,000, and Africa 200.

An impressive phase of these revelations is the strength that can be developed by an aggressive, fanatical minority when opposed only by a lethargic majority—and it is this danger that need be taken into account as subversive activities of Moscow-directed communists in the United States are brought to attention.

Seasonal Jobs May Take Up Slack

PREDICTIONS by federal government experts that employment will reach 60,000,000 jobs this summer are encouraging news. Nor do they seem unreasonable. Annually, in the warmer months there are calls for extra help on farms, at resorts and amusement centers, in vineyards, orchards and other seasonal businesses.

It is a cheerful thought that the money earned in these non-manufacturing jobs may be spent to a reasonably high degree for the products of factories, thus re-creating a demand which has recently slackened and caused some lay-offs.

No careful thinker assumes that we are going back into a war-created sellers' market where the customer takes just about anything he can get at any price. There is little doubt that we have moved into a "competitive situation."

This means, of course, that there is likely to be some unemployment and that manufacturers who cannot meet competition may succumb financially. But it is a long way from meaning a serious depression.

Conditions will be watched carefully in the coming months to see if the government prognosticators are correct about total employment and if the summer spurt helps to take up the slack that has been causing so much worry.

Search for Iron Ore Extends Far

ONE LEADING American steel firm has announced that it has an interest in the development of lately discovered high grade iron ore in the little African republic of Liberia. Liberia is no further away from American mills than some of the ore fields in South America. But the venture in Africa emphasizes the concern of the steel industry for sources of raw materials, and the far-flung nature of its search for them.

As related to the total supply problem, the Liberian development is not startling. Present thinking is in terms of an output of a million tons a year, which would be a very small part of the combined consumption of American mills alone. However, a significant point is that this ore, which assays higher than that of the Lake Superior ranges, would be more readily available to southern mills than to those which now get the Lake Superior ores.

Southern mills now use chiefly low grade ore, most of which is mined in Alabama. They might have available, for the first time, high grade ore at a cost comparable with that of ore delivered to the mills of the Great Lakes and Eastern area.

Extent of the deposits in Liberia is not yet known, but so far they are indicated to be relatively small. However, it is possible that Liberian ore may be an important factor in the developing change in the geographic distribution of American industry.

Estimates Fall Short of Costs

IT SEEMS to be a political axiom that governmental efforts in the ever-expanding field of "social security" invariably cost far more than the estimates.

England, like many another country, has lately provided evidence of this. The Labor government was recently forced to ask the house of commons for a very large appropriation to make up deficits for the current fiscal year.

It appeared that one major reason for this was the cost of the new universal free medical service plan. The deficit in that case alone, for a nine months' period, was nearly 53,000,000 pounds, which is well over $200,000,000 at the official rate of exchange.

The minister of health explained the inadequacy of original estimates by saying that the public had made much greater use of the service than was expected. This bears out the experience with socialized medicine in other countries that have tried it.

A budget merely shows what you can't afford to buy, it doesn't keep you from buying it.

What Some Other People Are Saying

ALEXANDER F. KERNSKY, former prime minister of Russia after overthrow of the czar: "Our union (for a democratic regime in Russia) is working not only in the interests of Russia but for the entire free world; our cause is the cause of all good men of good will, devoted to freedom, yearning for peace, and striving to prevent a third world war which would unleash apocalyptic weapons of mass destruction and annihilation."

* * *

SELDEN CHAPIN, U. S. minister to Hungary: "The overwhelming majority of (Hungarians) are freedom-loving peoples. I am confident they will regain their freedom, for without freedom there cannot be justice."

* * *

ARTHUR W. CAPPER, former U. S. senator: "It begins to look to me as if Britain is traveling the road to serfdom for the individual, with a head start on us. But some of our folks hope to travel the road faster."

Washington Calling

Appraisal of Truman

By MARQUIS CHILDS

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has several times said that in his opinion there are at least a million Americans who might make a better president than he. But, as he adds, he happens by a complex set of circumstances to hold the office and he means to go right on trying as hard as he can to do the best he can.

In office now for four years, the equivalent of a full term, the amazing thing is how little Mr. Truman has changed. Talk about the new Truman, Truman the socialist pushing America into the social welfare state, Truman grown arrogant with power, is largely irrelevant.

Of course, he has changed, no one could live under the stress and strain of the presidency without changing. He is definitely more confident, more relaxed, easier in the office.

It is no longer the hair shirt that it was in the first year and a half or two years when he told almost every visitor that he had not wanted to be president. Those days seem a long way off when he said to General Eisenhower, with all the earnestness at his command, that if Eisenhower would run for president, he Truman, would be his vice-presidential candidate.

But these are superficial changes. They have more to do with the outward manner than with the inward core of the man. In informal speechmaking, for example, he has a new confidence that makes it possible for him to imitate with comic effect a radio commentator.

He has learned to know the thousand and one demands that constantly press on the occupant of the White House. In part, at least, he has learned to guard himself from these demands.

* * *

Loyal To Friends.

APPRAISING him at the end of this four-year-period I would put on the credit side of the ledger his loyalty, both to individuals and to the tradition of a free and strong America as he has known it in his life experience.

His ability to act when action is called for would be listed high on the credit side. Along with this goes his refusal to be stampeded or panicked by attack. This quality might be described by the word, steadfast. His critics call it merely stubbornness.

As with so many men, Mr. Truman's virtues are also his defects. His loyalty kept Clark Clifford, one of the ablest of his advisers, in the White House in spite of persistent attacks from others in the Truman circle who argued a year ago that Clifford was too radical and, therefore, was hurting the President.

"Clark Clifford will have to go," a member of the Truman cabinet said, leaning across the presidential desk.

"That will be enough of that," the President broke in, his voice as even as always but the unmistakable fiber of his determination abundantly clear.

The President's loyalty dictated in considerable part his nomination of Mon C. Wallgren, former governor of Washington, to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board. The President believes Wallgren to be capable and honest and he is deeply resentful of the attack made in the Senate on the appointment.

The choice of this vacation spot at the navy base in Key West is typical in more ways than one of the President. It is simple, unpretentious, inexpensive and yet comfortable and the climate is nearly ideal.

He could have been an honored and pampered guest in a half-dozen palatial houses at Palm Beach, yet he chose a modest cottage where he is his own boss.

The man who will be President for nearly four years more is no saint, no hero. Certainly, there is none of the man-on-horseback about him. He is an American, shaped by the forces of his time, trying to do his best in an era of trouble and confusion.

Frankly Speaking

Pact and Isolationism

By JAMES MARLOW

(Editor's Note: This is the first of four stories on the Atlantic Pact, giving its background and its purpose.)

* * *

WASHINGTON — We've just taken a step which may end in war or prevent war.

In the Atlantic Pact, just announced, we're entering a peacetime military alliance with Western Europe, aimed at Russia.

It's like drawing a line down through Europe, dividing it into two armed camps, and telling Russia:

"You and your allies are on that side. We're on this. If you try to cross over, it means war."

But there's no shock over the news of the pact. Why not, since we've had a tradition of insolationsim, of keeping out of Europe's affairs?

In the first place, our joining the United Nations in 1945 to keep world peace was definitely saying goodbye to isolationism.

That put us into Europe's affairs. And we've been up to our neck in them since then by helping one country in Europe after another to stand up against communism and Russia.

But in the second place, our so-called isolationism is a myth, as the last two world wars show.

* * *

Isolationism Has Failed.

IN HIS book, "Paths To the Present," Arthur M. Schlesinger, one of the best American historians, points out that this country, including its colonial days, has been involved in one way or another in nine, not just two, world wars since 1689.

These included the American phases of bigger European wars in colonial days, the American Revolution, the French revolutionary wars, the Napoleonic wars, and the "First" and "Second" world wars.

But isn't a military alliance in peacetime with European powers contrary to the thinking of this country's founding fathers?

Even if it were, it would mean nothing if this country now found itself confronted with a danger they couldn't foresee. But—

Jefferson and the men who helped him put together the Declaration of Independence in 1776 foresaw the possible need for alliances. The Declaration says:

". . .These united colonies. . . have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances. . ."

But didn't Washington warn against "entangling alliances"? That's what Henry Cabot Lodge, biographer of Washington, said in 1916.

But Lodge made a slight mistake. It wasn't Washington who said it. It was Jefferson, as Schlesinger notes in his book which, recently published, is very pertinent to talk of the Atlantic Pact.

Washington in his farewell address said it might be "unwise in us to implicate ourselves. . . in the ordinary vicissitudes" of Europe's politics. But he said "temporary alliances" might sometimes be necessary.

The changes going on in Europe now are not ordinary. The Atlantic Pact is for 20 years, if that can be considered temporary.

Schlesinger says this country has "never managed to avoid participation in any foreign conflict involving operations in the North Atlantic. So apparently it's no accident that the full name of the present pact is the "North Atlantic Pact."

One Man's Opinion

(EXCLUSIVE!) The offer of a summer White House in Rhode Island was turned down for security reasons. Republicans have been seen on the beach at Newport at low tide.

They're descendants of an old tribe which foraged mostly in New York until the great draught of 1932.

They've been subsisting largely on mussels and clams, ekeing out a bare living weaving Dewey badges and in their present ravenous condition anything could happen.

But a vacation White House should be made available somewhere. The one at Key West is kind of cute but not high enough for a balcony.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

World's Peace Machinery Endangered

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — Under current debate in the Senate is a relatively obscure amendment to the Marshall Plan appropriation which happens to be of vital interest to every American who may have to shoulder arms.

In brief, it boils down to the fact that the United States opposes aggression by words while feeding aggression with money.

Specifically the amendment states that an aggressor nation which blocks the peace efforts of Security Council of the United Nations shall not continue to draw cash from the Marshall Plan.

The state department opposes this amendment. It wants an aggressor to continue to get Marshall Plan money.

Not many people—or senators—are interested in this unobtrusive amendment—for it's aimed at a war halfway round the world, which many Americans have scarcely heard about and which very few care about—the Dutch East Indies.

Yet it's all-important. For when one country gets away with being an aggressor, the gates are down.

This newspaperman, looking back over the years of covering many peace conferences, many attempts to stop wars, recalls three scenes which U. S. senators and U. S. diplomats might keep in mind as they vote on this current amendment.

* * *

The Chaco War.

SCENE 1 — The Pan American Union. Time—1928. Calvin Coolidge was in the White House; Frank B. Kellogg was secretary of state; the world was relatively peaceful. Suddenly in the jungles of South America, war broke out between Bolivia and Paraguay.

The Republican party is traditionally isolationist. But many of its leaders have struggled more persistently than Democrats to ensure peace. Two of these were Charles Evans Hughes and Secretary Kellogg.

Hughes was a private citizen in 1928, but Kellogg summoned him to Washington and both threw all their weight into preventing war in South America.

At first they succeeded. For two years, constant, tireless conciliation efforts kept the two nations apart.

However, as in most wars, an economic factor was involved. The Dillon, Read banking firm of Secretary of Defense Forrestal had loaned Bolivia $20,000,000, which was used to buy arms. With such an arsenal to play with, no one could have kept the Bolivians from making war.

However, Kellogg's and Hughes' peace efforts, though eventually ending in failure, set an inspiring example to the rest of the world. The world's peace machinery was still reasonably intact.

* * *

War In Manchuria.

SCENE 2—Mukden. Time Sept. 18, 1931 and the months following. Henry L. Stimson, another Republican, was secretary of state. This time, a more powerful nation, Japan, decided to become the aggressor. Stimson saw in this two things: 1. A complete breakdown of the world's peace machinery; 2. The beginning of Japan's conquest of all China.

Mobilizing the weight of the League of Nations, the 9-Power Pact, and the Kellogg Pact, Stimson spent months trying to plug this hole in the dike of peace.

But the British, the French and even American economic interests undercut him. Later, and right up to Pearl Harbor, American oil companies and scrap-iron dealers dumped shipload after shipload of vital warmaking materials into Japan.

* * *

Mussolini Gets Tough.

SCENE 3—Ethiopia. Time—1935. By now Franklin Roosevelt was president. By now also, failure to bring peace in Manchuria had weakened the League of Nations. However, when Mussolini crashed his Fascist legions, without warning, into defenseless Ethiopia, the League made its greatest effort.

It applied economic sanctions. It cut off all trade with Italy—except the one product which would have paralyzed Italy—oil.

Without oil the Italian navy could not sail, Italian airplanes could not fly, Italian tanks could not move. Nevertheless, tongue in cheek, the diplomats decided to let Mussolini, the wanton aggressor, have oil.

After that it was only a matter of time before full-scale European war was inevitable. Not only Mussolini but Adolf Hitler knew how easy it was to buffalo the democracies and their alleged peace machinery.

Hitler later knew, among other things, that Standard Oil of New Jersey made a secret deal with I. G. Farben to hold back from the American public the priceless patents on synthetic rubber—patent which the nazis developed, while the American people were caught woefully short of rubber after Pearl Harbor.

* * *

History Repeats.

SCENE 4—Washington. Time—The Present. Once again the oil lobbyists are busy. Once again they have the ear of the state department. The Dutch East Indies are rich in oil, and Standard Vacuum's president, "Shorty" Elliott, has been busy backstage in Washington.

Standard of New Jersey has cleaned up its personnel and is under new executives since Pearl Harbor. But its 50 per cent subsidiary, Standard Vacuum, has its genial president playing close to William Lacey, the state department official who handles Dutch affairs.

Lacey is a dilettante diplomat who is supposed to be tough with the Dutch, but who is wined and dined at the Dutch Embassy. He is anything but tough.

Officially and publicly, the state department has hurled wrathy words of indignation at the Dutch government. It has denounced the Dutch as aggressors, invaders, violators of their word.

But when it comes to using the only language the Dutch understand—cutting off Marshall Plan aid—the state department looks the other way.

It has been clearly shown that the Marshall Plan money we send the Dutch is passed on to the Dutch army to fight a war in violation of the United Nations.

Yet when senators want to cut off this aid, the state department has whispered unofficially but effectively, "no." A different state department from the days of Henry L. Stimson and Frank B. Kellogg is in control today.

The Democrats who talk against Republican isolation are in power instead. But the oil companies are just as powerful, the diplomats just as short-sighted—and history may repeat.

Long Range Bombers

By INEZ ROBB

FORT WORTH, Texas — In a world beset by a cold war, discretion is the better part of valor.

Uncle Sam's Eighth Air Force, the old gentleman's atom bomb flying squad, is "on a stand-by operational status all the time," in the words of Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey.

The general, commander of the Eigthh Air Force stationed at Carswell air force base here, added: "They haven't let us get back to a peacetime basis at all. We've had to work all our people over-time to get things squared away."

Part of that squaring away process, with which Gen. Ramey is charged, is training men to handle the world's biggest and fastest bomber, the B-36.

This aerial leviathan, the only bomber designed specifically to carry either the atom bomb or standard block busters, is Gen. Ramey's baby. It has been his job to test it, shake out the bugs and perfect it.

The general, who looks like a military man of distinction, expressed his satisfaction with the big bomber and its performance as he sat in his office on Carswell base and listened to great engines roar overhead.

"The production model is far better than anything else we have, or than anyone else has," Ramey declared. "It is a very good, practical airplane.

"No plane design will last forever. From drawing board design to combat airplane in use requires an eight-to-nine year period. There are several bigger planes on the drawing boards now, but it is not at all certain that they'll ever be standardized or put into use.

"For the next few years, the United States has in the B-36 a bomber that will go farther and fly faster than any other. I am certain it will turn into as good a work-horse as the B-29."

* * *

Ready For Emergency.

THIS is high praise from Gen. Ramey who has been a specialist in big bombers and atom bombs since the inception of both.

Ramey organized the 2nd wing of B-29s, when they were the aerial wonder of World War II, and took them to the Mariannas, and thence into India and China, and back to the Mariannas during the heavy fighting in the Pacific.

Later, Gen. Ramey was placed in charge of air force operations during the atomic bomb tests at both Bikini and Eniwetok. Ramey is convinced the initial phases in any future war will consist of long range strategic bombing, to gain time to mass forces for the ultimate phases of battle.

He is certain Uncle Sam will not be caught napping in any such emergency.

The general, a man in his early forties, will not be at all surprised if the 8th Air Force and the B-36s continue to make headlines. He shrugged off the recent record non-stop flight of 9,600 miles by a B-36 with a 10,000 pound bomb load as "a routine mission."

"Surprises are now our stock in trade," he admitted. "We're going to be doing a lot of long range missions from now on."

As the general pointed out, the B-36 today is capable of flying a 10,000 pound bomb load—how many atom bombs that would be is any civilian's guess—to a target 5,000 miles distant and return.

It is obvious that the general, at the moment, is not worried at the prospect of having to carry such a load any further.

What Research Means

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE MIRACLES of a few lifetimes ago are commonplaces now. Radio and airplanes have become familiar to all of us within our children's lifetimes—but it took centuries of fundamental scientific study before they could be made practical.

Beginning in the 16th century, with Copernicus and Kepler, and then Galileo, mankind began to glimpse that Nature and Nature's God ruled the universe according to laws that could be counted on, and studied and carefully observed.

Perhaps this was the "supremely useful discovery of all the ages." It changed the whole philosophical and religious outlook of the race and effected a revolution in thinking.

From study of the laws of force and motion, the movements of heavenly bodies, the mathematical principles of the universe, came our industrial civilization with its internal combustion engines. Modern industry is the child of Science.

The history of radio is similar, but shorter. It has evolved since 1910. But before anyone dreamed up a practical use of radio it took twenty years of purely scientific research in laboratories.

Physicists of the 1800's thought that they had summarized and completed the whole subject of radiant energy, until in 1896 Roentgen came forward with his first X-ray photographs!

This introduced a whole new set of principles, making startling changes in the old ways of thinking. "Ether physics"—rays that travel with the speed of light—had not been known at all before 1895.

The greatest discovery of all came in 1905, according to Dr. Robt. A. Millikan, dean of American physicists. Then the mass of an electron was shown to grow larger and larger as its speed is pushed closer and closer to the speed of light—that is, energy is transformed into mass or inertia.

And the reverse process, for which Einstein worked out a formula, made the atomic bomb experiment possible. It seems that matter itself may be annihilated, converted into heat and light. One gram of mass transforming itself into heat or radiant energy per second means development of 90 billion kilowatts of power!

This explains the sun's heat to astronomers' satisfaction since it cannot possibly have been pouring out heat as long as it is known to have been doing, if it is merely a hot body cooling off.

The greatest frontiers of our time is here. I suspect in the laboratories of our scientists. We need smart men—we need men of consecrated talents, for such great work: And we need men of spiritual vision to wisely administer what science discovers.

Predicts Jobs for 60 Million This Summer

Seasonal Increase Expected

April Called Key Month By Expert

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Ewan Clague, the government's top employment specialist, said today there should be jobs for 60,000,000 workers again this summer

Clague made that forecast after other government officials predicted that unemployment would reach a peak of 3,715,000 persons this month

Clague, director of the bureau of labor statistics, said a seasonal upturn is due in non-manufacturing employment. If this rise follows the traditional seasonal pattern, he said, "we have hit bottom in February." He said the rise in non-manufacturing employment in March may be only slight.

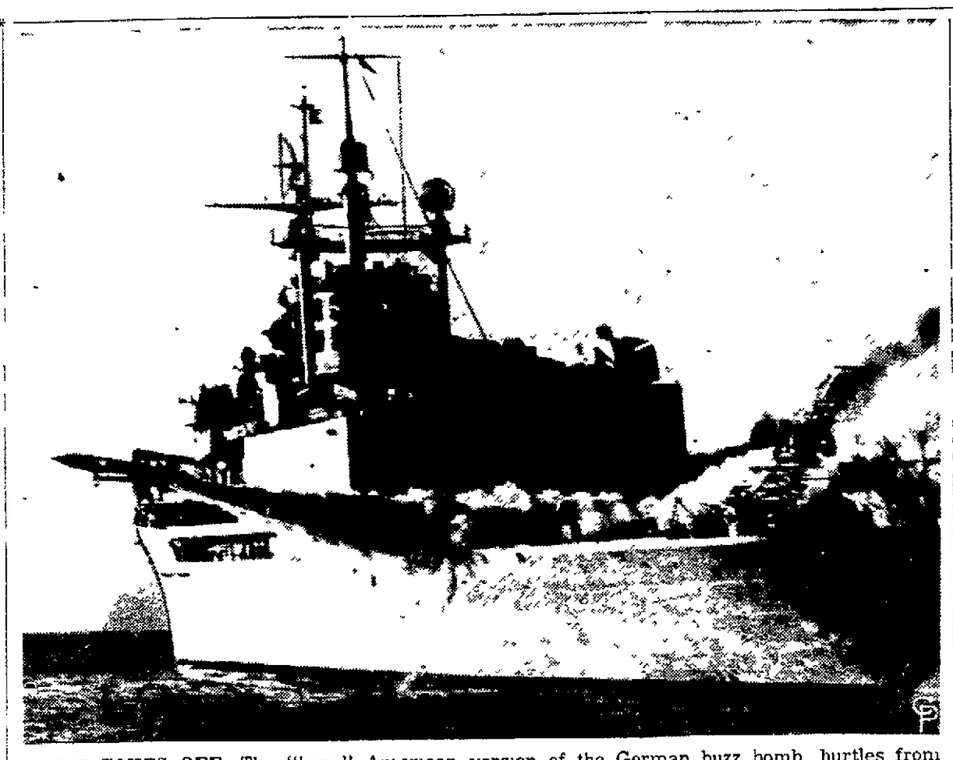
"But," he said "the key month is April and we ought to get a seasonal rise in that month."

Clague said manufacturing employment usually hits its seasonal peak in May and June but that agricultural employment is picking up now and should go up sharply next month

He said the United Mine Workers' coal strike has caused some unemployment on the railroads and might continue to do so in April if it is not called off on schedule next Monday.

Clague said employment in non-agricultural work dropped 370,000 in February to 43,957,000 He said this is 324,000 below February, 1948, but higher than any other February on record

Manufacturing employment was 15,750,000 in mid-February, about 1,000 000 below the post-war peak reached last September.



'LOON' TAKES OFF—The "loon," American version of the German buzz bomb, hurtles from the deck of the USS Norton Sound, seaplane tender adapted for test firing of rockets and guided missiles Later this month the navy vessel will be used to launch the first of a series of rockets for measuring cosmic rays and terrestial magnetic fields at high altitudes near the geo-magnetic equator —(International)

He said prices continued their leveling off process during February.

The March unemployment figure was forecast by economists of the federal reserve board. They estimated that the number of jobless would average 3,200,000 over the first three months of this year. That would mean March unemployment must rise to 3,715,000. The February figure was 3,221,000—a seven year high.

The federal reserve board based its estimate on the number of new unemployment compensation claims filed in the first two weeks of March Economists warned, however, that this is not always a perfect barometer of the number of workers idle

Meanwhile, the Commerce department reported that the post-war seller's market has all but disappeared in every line except automobiles and metals.

The economic effect of a buyer's market has been pronounced since the first of the year Retail sales are off inventories are up, and unemployment is rising.

Tax Revenue Off $33,000

Richland county's sales tax revenue is lagging more than $33,000 behind figures for a corresponding period last year.

A report released yesterday by State Treasurer Don H. Ebright lists sales tax revenue for the year at $218,840 as compared with $251,846 in a similar period last year.

The first week of March produced $23,501 as compared with $32,943 in that week in 1948

Only Morrow and Holmes, both agricultural counties show gains this year in the northcentral Ohio area. The Holmes county tax revenue is up about $500 while Morrow county showed a $430 increase.

Youngsters Find Old Favorites At Library

'Little Red Hen' Relives In New Book

By Library Staff Member

Two books for young readers start this week's list The first is the STORY PRIMER, by G W. Lewis. This book is quite old-fashioned, has large pages, good large, easy-to-read print and several short stories mostly about rabbits

The second book, CHICKEN LITTLE, HENNY PENNY, AND THE LITTLE RED HEN, is an attractive, nicely illustrated book with two stories in it The stories are old but always popular. Second and third graders should enjoy it

This week, too, there are two new books for boys and girls who want to read about Indians and pioneers INDIAN BOY ON THE COLUMBIA RIVER is about Buffalo Child and others of his tribe They lived on the banks of the Columbia, about the time the first white men came

PIONEER DAYS IN OLD OREGON is about the same country and the same time but told from the white man's point of view. These two books make a nice pair to be read together. Both are written by Eva Anderson and Dean Collins.

Other books that make a nice pair are FOODS, by Bertha Parker, and STORY OF YOUR BREAD by Clara Hollos The first is a short book well-illustrated, that tells what foods we need, how food works in our bodies and what minerals and vitamins we get from food

Clara Hollos tells the story of grain from the days of the cavemen down through Egypt the middle ages right up to today It tells the story of big farms, huge factories and mills where we get so much of our bread today

STORY RE-TOLD

BY HIS OWN MIGHT is the story of Beowulf, one of the greatest heroes of all time who slew the giant Grendel, and then, in the bottom of a deep well fought and slew Grendel's mother This story is as old almost as the English people, and has been told and retold for centuries The story is told by Dorothy Hosford

Collectors of all kinds will be glad to have YOUNG COLLECTOR'S HANDBOOK, by Alpheus Verrill. Here are suggestions for what to collect — from rocks and minerals to insects to Indian relics, stamps, and the like The author gives ideas on what to collect and how to go about it how to start a collection how to arrange and preserve items This is a handy and valuable book for young collectors

For older girls there is a book about present-day Oregon, called WISH ON AN APPLE, by Shannon Garst This is the story of Dale and Larry Walker who followed the crops The Walkers were itinerant workers They picked berries, peaches, apples, cabbages, whatever was in season They stayed for a short time but never very long anywhere

To Dale the best thing in the world was a place to live—a chance to stay. This is the story of how she wished, and what happened to her wish. If you have read "Blue Willow", by Doris Gates, you will want to read this one, too. If, by some sad chance you have missed that be sure to read both.

LAST CRUISE OF THE JEANETTE, by Rutherford Montgomery, is the gripping tale of an expedition to the frozen north It was tradition for the O'Haras to run away to sea at 15 Danny lived up to the family custom and stowed away on the "Jeanette".

It was a long time, a dangerous time, of traveling through snow and ice-covered sea and being frozen fast in miles of ice before Danny came home again It's almost as good to read about as to do — perhaps better, because your toes won't freeze as you read

Duse Enacted Her Greatest Role In Real Life; Other Stage Notes

DUSE PLAYED her most dramatic role in real life. In the twilight of her career the great Italian star was ill and financially hard-pressed. . . . During the initial World War she donated her savings to aid wounded soldiers and refugees. . . . Nevertheless, she rejected a pension offered by Mussolini's gov't and decided on another tour of the United States. Although her health was impaired, Duse's artistry still glowed. The swing around the nation was a financial success, but its rigors proved too much for her ebbing strength.

Before the tour was completed she passed away in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Fiske was a fanatic animal lover. The actress refused to include in her wardrobe any furs or feathers.

After a critic had pelted her play, Mrs. Fiske wrote to him: "It is well known that I love animals. That is why I am not writing anything nasty to you now!"

Sarah Bernhardt's most cherished tribute came from an unknown admirer. During Bernhardt's heyday there were many imitators of her acting style . . . A devotee of her art sent Bernhardt an unsigned missive reading: "I agree with Goethe who said there are many echoes but few voices."

Performing the same role night after night can be an ordeal that verges on drudgery. After her 900th performance in "Victoria Regina" Helen Hayes sighed: "I feel as though I were playing it under water!"

★

EDWIN BOOTH'S most difficult acting assignment was trying to satisfy a director who wanted him to walk on the stage "looking like he had just drunk a cup of tea!"

Nora Bayes concocted a unique method of squelching audience coughers. When the hacking and barking irked her she would suddenly fake a coughing fit on the stage.

Then Nora would remark to the audience with obvious sarcasm: "Please excuse my very rude behavior."

Edmund Kean was one of Britain's great troupers. He was playing leading Shakesperian roles when only 14 years old . . . But one thoughtless act shattered his career in the USA. Kean refused to perform in a Boston theater because it wasn't filled. This incident incited a public uproar that forced Kean to scoot back to England.

Theatergoers never forgot the insult. When he returned here several years later—there were riots when Kean appeared. Not even a public apology could soothe the aroused Yankee Doodlers.

Running a Dance Orchestra Costs To Beat the Band, Leader Proves

NEW YORK—Operating a top dance orchestra costs to beat the band.

"Most people take an orchestra for granted," said Elliot Lawrence, a boy wonder in this field. "They don't realize what it takes to keep it playing.

"They just say, 'Wow! Look at the dough he makes. He can retire in a couple of years.'

"Well, it just isn't that easy."

The 24-year-old leader, whose band grossed $300,000 last year, gave a few statistics on the business during an interlude between shows at a Broadway theater.

He began playing the piano at the age of three. When he was six an eight-month attack of infantile paralysis apparently had ended his hopes for a music career. But he recovered and started his own orchestra at 13.

After graduating from the University of Pennsylvania—he was then only 19—Elliot entered the highly competitive popular dance field. Today his band is rated by many as the top college dance band in the country. It travels 65,000 miles a year.

"But it just doesn't get to its engagements automatically," Lawrence smiled. And he went into the figures—the dross in the $300,000 gross.

His orchestra has 17 members, including two vocalists, and they get from $5,000 to $7,000 a year each.

"And the boys get paid whether they work or not," said Elliot.

"A band has to have transportation—a truck and five cars. And we have to have two or three arrangers, at $100 a week apiece.

"You have to have an advance man to go ahead of the band to make arrangements, and a publicity agent. Together they cost, say, $250 a week.

"You have to have a booking agency that gets ten to 20 per cent of your gross, and a personal business manager who gets about half of that. You also have to have a road manager along—at $100 a week.

"And you have to take along two band boys to drive trucks, set up the band and take care of the music. That's another $125 a week.

"There are a lot of other incidentals like band equipment—uniforms, stands, mutes — and pictures, mats and photographs."

★

LAWRENCE, one of the few band leaders who neither smokes nor drinks, leaned back and took a swig from a paper carton full of orange juice.

"You can see," he grinned, "that it isn't a way to get rich quick.

Lawrence feels that dance band work is essentially a young man's business. "I want to go as far as I can," he said, "and then get out and go back to serious music. I would like to be a symphony conductor."

5 Mansfield Youths Held In Burglary

Accused of Break-in At Greenwich

Five Mansfield youths, three of them juveniles, were held in Huron county jail at Norwalk today in connection with the burglary of the Troxell Implement store at Greenwich on March 12 when an estimated $95 was taken from the store's safe.

All were charged with breaking and entering. However, Huron County Sheriff Harry H. Broome said the three under-aged boys probably would be returned to Richland county since they had not actually participated in the robbery.

Facing charges are Clifford Allen Smith, 19, of 622 Grant street, now on three-years probation for carrying concealed weapons; Junior Ray Williams, 19, of Fairfax avenue; a 17-year-old Woodland avenue boy; a 14-year-old Bowman street boy and a 16-year-old Bowman street boy, neighbor to the 14-year-old.

CALLED "RING-LEADER"

Smith, considered by Sheriff Broome to have been the "ringleader" in the robbery, has been at Boy's Industrial School, at the Bureau of Juvenile Research at Columbus, at Lima State hospital and at the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Columbus.

He was arrested by police last Oct. 28 when he was found carrying a five-inch Navy commando knife and put on three years' probation in common pleas court on Feb. 8 this year.

Court officials said they had no record on Williams or the 17 and 14-year-olds. The 16-year-old Bowman street boy came to the attention of juvenile court in 1946 when he was charged with destroying property at Johns park and probated to his parents.

Sheriff Broome said the implement store was entered by forcing open a rear window. He said questioning of the youths brought out the fact that Smith and Williams staged the robbery while the three younger boys waited outside as "look-outs."

Files Answer To Action

In an action to recover $5.300 and have a $1,000 note declared void, Maurice H. Flowers, Bellville, yesterday filed an answer and cross petition to a suit in common pleas court.

Flowers had been named by Richard M. Garber in an action for non-payment of a note he had given when he purchased Garber's Grill in Bellville. He already had paid Garber $5,300 for the restaurant, his action said.

Flowers now charges Garber misrepresented the value of the restaurant before the purchase and seeks to recover the amount he has paid. The sale price was $6,300.

THEY LIKE CLASSICS—

Junior high pupils have an ear for the classics in spite of the general opinion that only jazz interests them, school officials said. At an assembly at Johnny Appleseed junior high yesterday, semi—classica' selections were presented by the violin-piano team of Gibson and Schwerke. "It was one of the finest musicals we have ever had here," G. W. Harmony, principal of Johnny Appleseed, said, "and the pupils gave it their closest attention." The concert was one of a series of student assembly programs.

Top Evangelistic Attendance Award Taken By St. Peter's

St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church won the Sunday school award for having the largest precentage of its Sunday school enrollment present at the evangelistic services in Johnny Appleseed auditorium last night.

The church had 90 per cent of its enrollment present and was awarded a large picture showing Christ teaching in the temple at the age of 12.

The Caesarea Christian church was second with 80 per cent present. Twenty-five other churches were represented at the services.

Rev. Jack Shuler told the crowd it is possible for a Christian to know beyond any doubt that he is saved. "For the believer the pathway of obedience to the will of God is the road to certainty," he added.

"Everyone wants to go to heaven: no one wants to go to hell," he continued. "Your desire for salvation must be intense enough for you to come to Christ and to trust in Him for your salvation," he said.

The choir of Mt. Calvary Baptist church sang several selections, and Rev. James Davis, pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church, sang a solo.

Tonight's service will be held in John Simpson auditorium instead of Johnny Appleseed. Meetings again will be held at Johnny Appleseed starting Wednesday night. Tonight's subject is "What's the Difference."

MEET WEDNESDAY

Members of the Dorcas Society of the Seventh Day Adventist Church will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the Dorcas Room, Cline avenue.

TIRED of the ordinary run of breads? Then bake a good-flavored, crunchy-crusted loaf of nut bread for a change the whole family will enjoy. It makes a tasty teatime snack and can go along with a light supper. Serve it plain, buttered, or accompanied by cream cheese and jam for spreading.

Nut bread provides a welcome variation in the lunch box. It is especially nice for sweet sandwiches made with fruit butter, marmalade or jelly filling. These sandwiches are well liked by children and are good for them because of the high energy value in the sweet fillings.

NUT LOAF

2½ cups sifted, enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup broken walnut meats
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Stir in walnuts. Combine beaten egg and milk; add. Bake in greased loaf pan in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 1 hour. Remove from pan; cool on cake rack.

If desired, brush while still warm with confectioners' sugar frosting.

To make a fruit and nut loaf, use only ½ cup of nut meats and add ½ cup of finely chopped dates, prunes or apricots. Raisins are a good addition, too.

53 Candidates Try for Madison Baseball Squad

Rams Slate First Batting Drill Today

By CHARLEY STINE

The Madison high school baseball team finally set foot outdoors yesterday and some 53 candidates reported to Coach Blaine Dowler for the session.

The first open air drill was confined to an hour's throwing in the school parking lot to loosen up arms. However, unless he is rained out, Dowler plans to send his charges through the first batting drill of the season tonight at Liberty park.

Dowler has only a week to cut his squad to the 20 men he plans to carry during the season. First game is set next Thursday against Galion at Blue Goose park. Incidentally three games have been added to the slate, a pair with Lucas and one with Shelby. Madison goes to Lucas April 8, Lucas comes here April 26 and Shelby invades Blue Goose May 2. A pair of games with North Robinsoh, last year's Crawford county champs, have also been tentatively booked.

PICK OWN SPOTS

Since he is not familiar with their play, the Madison coach allowed the boys out for the team to name their own positions. By this method he came up with ten pitchers, three catchers, seven first basemen, three second basemen, three third basemen and four shortstops. His biggest headache is the weeding—a starting trio out of a collection of 22 outfielders.

Nine of the boys have played either American Legion or Hot Stove league ball and probably will have the inside track on starting assignments because of experience. Eleven other boys will make the squad and here is where the competition will be keen. Dowler tentatively plans to carry two men for each position and four pitchers.

The roster:

PITCHERS—Ray "Dutch" Bader, Jerry Tallentire, Bill Fletcher, Gene Yohn, Vern Barnhill, Don Barr, Lefty Topper, Tim Nedro, Jim McMillan and Skip Constance.

CATCHERS — Kenny Woerth, Mel Grimm and Bob Fox.

FIRST BASE—Ken Newland, Ward Patterson, Joe Distl, Marty Keipp, Don Hartman, Ronald Fredericks, and Gene Riblet.

SECOND BASE—Jim Brightbill, Dave Tucker and Bill Remy.

THIRD BASE—Larry Secrist, Bruce Armstrong and Fred Durig.

SHORTSTOP— Norm Hughes, Leland Strang, Dean Stoffer and Marlin Hess.

Coach Harry Mehock had 45 members of his Senior high squad working out at Stadium field yesterday afternoon. The Tyger thinclads have been drilling indoors and outdoors, when weather permits, for two months.

Former Ball Stars Briefs Filed Today

NEW YORK — (UP) — Final briefs on the re-instatement appeal of ex-St. Louis Cardinals Max Lanier and Fred Martin were to be filed in Federal court today before Judge Edward A. Conger.

The federal jurist has promised a speedy decision on whether the two pitchers shall be temporarily returned to active duty "even if it means burning the midnight oil."

Lanier and Martin are under five-year suspension from baseball for "jumping" to the Mexican league in 1946. They have asked Judge Conger for a court order which would lift the ban temporarily, pending the outcome of the $2,500,000 damage suit they have filed against baseball.

Meanwhile, Judge Conger has given baseball a longer amount of time in which to answer the damage suit brought by Lanier and Martin. Originally the date had been set for March 31, but Conger moved that back to April 29.

Attorney Mark Hughes said that baseball asked for the extension "because of the extraordinary circumstances involved", chiefly arising from the fact that officials of the various major league teams are spread through the south for the spring training season.

Four Girls Signed for Tag Bout On Third Wrestle Show

The girl wrestlers are coming back to Mansfield Saturday night —and in numbers.

Promoter Clete Kauffman has signed four of the femme grapplers to appear on his third show Saturday at the Armory. Two weeks ago, a pair of the gals featured the program and the "standing room only" sign went up early.

The quartet includes June Byers, the Houston, Texas beauty; Juanita Banks, Cecilia Blevins and Viola Viann. Viola was here on the first show, defeating Dot Dotson in a "wild" session.

Viola will team with Cecilia against June and Juanita in a tag-team affair. Juanita is one of the real roughnecks of the wrestling circuits and has built up a big "hate" following in many of the mat centers.

Kauffman will round out the show with two other matches featuring men of the grunt and groan business. He will have the remainder of the show set within the next day or two.

Tickets for the mat show are on sale at the City News.

Galion Alley Kings Named

GALION — A. B. Sanderson and R. D. Harter are the doubles champions in the Galion Bowling tournament, and Marion White took the singles title.

The Galion Iron Works, Industrial A league, took top team honors with a 3004-pin total, topping Bachelor's Bar of the same league by two.

Harter and Sanderson had a score of 1286 to win over Sam Chinni and Gene Schreck by 10 pins. White's crown was won with a 663. Ted McJunkin was second high with a score of 661.

Lima Coach Out Of Job This Year

LIMA — (INS) — William Theisen, Lima South high football and track coach for the last four years, probably will be out of a job there this year.

The board of education said it did not intend to renew his contract.

Theisen's football squads ran up a record of 18 wins and 19 losses, with three ties, in four years. He formerly coached at Cincinnati Woodward.

Dentist Takes First Money In Golf Open

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., — (AP) —Golf's long search for a new star may be ended.

A Memphis dentist—28-year-old Cary Middlecoff—is going great on the winter tour. He has all the shots from tee to green. He's shown he's strong under pressure. And he gives no indication of slowing up.

This upcoming young par buster has won three of the last five major tournaments. He was runner-up in the other two.

Those victories have lifted Middlecoff to the top of the money department for 1949.

When he pocketed $2,000 for winning the Jacksonville open yesterday, Middlecoff had collected $8,056.66 in PGA-sponsored tournaments since Jan.1.

Lloyd Mangrum, who had been leading up till then, got $750 for a fourth-place tie and stands second at $7,207.50. E. J Harrison of Albuquerque went into third place at $6,425 on the strength of his third-place $1,000.

Little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles was the only entrant to threaten Middlecoff on the last day. He whipped up a 65 and took second money of $1,400 at 276. Middlecoff had a 274. Harrison's third place score was 278.

Fans Hope In Vain for Ducats

By FRITZ HOWELL
(AP Sports Writer)

COLUMBUS—Ohio's 1949 high school basketball tournament, running Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the state fairgrounds coliseum, is a double-barrelled proposition.

The two big questions being asked by the fans are:

"Who's going to win?", and "how can we get in to see the games?"

Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said today there was a chance some stray tickets might be available for the Thursday Class B semi-finals, should some of the competing clubs be unable to dispose of their allotment of 1483.

But from then on to the finish, Emswiler predicted, there will be no ducats from the general public.

The commissioner was bombarded yesterday by telegrams and telephone calls from Hamilton citizens who felt Hamilton public had been short-changed by the 1483 ticket limitation.

One man wired "where did all the tickets go? Gov. Lausche will find out for us."

Another told Emswiler: "you've lost 30,000 Butler county votes when you run for re-election." (The commissioner is named by the state board of the Ohio High School Athletic association.)

"Emmy," harassed from all sides because he can't find 20,000 tickets for a coliseum seating 7,000, said he'd try to take care of Hamilton by sending 350 additional tickets today. And Niles, which meets Hamilton in Friday's Class A opener, promised it would send any surplus to the Butler countians.

The commissioner said there was no mystery about who gets the tickets. He said the newspapers of the state get 150, radio stations 96, state legislators 160, school bands about 150, the competing teams a total of 216, the teams defeated in regional finals a total of 120, the competing schools a total of 2966, the state's basketball coaches about 1500, managers of high school tournaments and meets of all kinds about 250—all of which adds up to about 5600 per game.

On top of that a flock of college coaches like to be on hand to take a look at the up-coming talent. Before you know it, the 7000 tickets are gone.

Hamilton, which has raised the most strenuous objections, received 1483 tickets for a student body of 1479. Chuck Thackara, Hamilton athletic chief, said Hamilton Catholic, with a student body of 250, got 1700 tickets last year. He inferred the size of the school should have something to do with the amount of tickets awarded. The Big Blue also has a huge booster club, members of which want to see the team play, Thackara said.

Some of the students or boosters miss games at Hamilton because the gym holds only 1600 there. Teams visiting Hamilton gets 100 tickets per game, or about 6 percent—while Hamilton, with the 350 being shipped today, gets about 26 percent of the tickets for its tournament contests.

Meanwhile, as the ticket controversy went on and Emswiler said he was "about sold on the idea of taking the tourney to Cincinnati's 15,000-seat sports arena next year," the competing clubs prepared for the annual classic.

Delphos St. John's Class B team practiced for 90 minutes on the big floor yesterday afternoon, and then returned home to await Thursday afternoon's opener against New Lexington. The latter team was due in this afternoon. Thursday night's opponents, Lockland Wayne and North Canton, the 1939 champ, work out tomorrow.
